

Jewel Keeper

There's a rainbow over the hilltop where blue flowers touch the sky.

There's a rainbow over the valley where the fair meadows lie.

But, there's another rainbow from all the world apart,

'Tis the dearest, fairest rainbow, 'tis the rainbow in your heart.

And, tho the clouds may gather, and earth's bow be gone from view,

You may always know that in your heart, God's rainbow shines for you.

Now, as you leave this meeting, place your jewel in this pot of gold,

May God ever walk beside you and rainbows love you will always hold.
